11. What suggestions do you have to remove constraints and improve the practices relating to the maintenance, management and destruction of records?

As stipulated in the Section 7 of the Right to Information Act, No. 12 of 2016 all the records are preserved and maintained and majority of those records are also digitally maintained. With the expansions of the work of the secretariat, the major difficulty faced is with the lack of the storage space for information material either as hardcopies or on electronic devices. Therefore, it is timely, if best practices on maintaining, managing and destructing those materials also considering their contents could be introduced.

12. What facilities are available to the citizens for obtaining information? Please give details, including any improvements carried out during the year

- ❖ As per the Act, a Designated Officer and two information officers have been appointed and a special unit has also been established to facilitate for RTI requests received by the Parliament Secretariat. Dedicated e-mails were also made available beside the telephone numbers of the relevant officials which are also published on the Parliament web site.
- ❖ All information pertaining to the procedure for making a request for information have been made available on the Parliament website including the details of requisite fees.

PARLIAMENT OF SRI LANKA

- ❖ If a person wishes to make a request which relates to the life and personal liberty of a citizen, can coordinate with the responsible officer in the RTI unit established in Parliament for this purpose of whom the contact details are also available on the Parliament web site.
- ❖ Parliament web site is a key tool of providing both administrative and legislative information to the public in a more proactive way which was upgraded to provide more information and is now periodically updated. The web site has trilingual accessibility enabling information available to the entire citizen of the country. Information available on the website is easily accessible with minimal number of clicks and information formats supported for majority.

13. How much fees were collected by the Public Authority during the year through information requests?

Rs. 3,321.10

14. What suggestions do you have for improving the effectiveness of the regime of transparency?

Improvements within your Public Authority

It is useful if more awareness could be raised among all the staff members by changing their perception positively about the importance of the right to information process to enable more productive information is provided to the requester. At the same time, it is required to provide more training opportunities for the officials directly dealing with handling RTI requests, on the accepted procedures followed by similar other institutions and countries. Apart from the context of handing requests, training requires to provide to all the officials as to how records should be maintained to facilitate the RTI process, which eventually will improve the effectiveness of the day to day work.

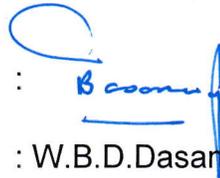

Improvements in general

More awareness programmes can be conducted at Divisional Secretariat level to enhance the knowledge of people on the Right to Information Act, especially in remote areas. Apart from the facts noted above, maintaining an informative and up-to-date web site is of immense importance for the public authorities that enables the general public to easily access information at any time saving public money and time.

15. Any other information you wish to provide or comments you wish to make?

- In order to ascertain that the information is requested by a citizen of Sri Lanka it is suggested that the relevant forms be updated to obtain the NIC number or relevant identification information of the requester.
- The Fees Scheduled should be amended in order to increase the charges
- The time frame may be amended to give more time to provide the information
