Mr. Chairman, Members of the House, fellow citizens:

Betting is an activity where individuals pay money into a pot with the chance of winning and the strategy of the sport or the performance of the players involved. In our society, betting is often associated with gambling activities, which have been a subject of debate in numerous countries, including Sri Lanka. In some instances, betting is considered as a part of sport, whereas in others, it is seen as a form of gambling.

Mr. Chairman, Ms. Speaker, Hon. Members of Parliament:

Betting is a popular activity in Sri Lanka, and it is often regulated by the government. The government has taken steps to regulate betting activities and ensure that it is conducted in a responsible manner. In this context, it is important to note that betting can have both positive and negative impacts on society. On the one hand, betting can contribute to the economy by generating revenue and employment opportunities. On the other hand, it can lead to addiction, financial ruin, and other negative consequences.

In countries like the United Kingdom, betting is regulated by the Gambling Commission, which ensures that betting activities are conducted in a responsible manner. The Commission has set out guidelines and standards for betting activities, including the use of fair and transparent odds, the provision of adequate information on risks and responsibilities, and the prevention of money laundering.

Similarly, the Sri Lankan government has taken steps to regulate betting activities. The government has established the National Audit Office to ensure that betting activities are conducted in a transparent and accountable manner. The National Audit Office has conducted audits of betting activities, and has identified areas where improvements are needed.

In conclusion, betting is a complex issue that requires careful consideration and regulation. The government has taken steps to regulate betting activities and ensure that they are conducted in a responsible manner. However, there is still much work to be done to ensure that betting activities are conducted in a fair and transparent manner.

Thank you.

Mr. Deputy Chairman of Committees

Mr. Ananda Aluthgamage

Thank you.
Dear Chairperson,

I am writing to express my support for the proposed budget of $28,000 for fiscal year 2019. I believe that this budget will enable us to continue providing high-quality services to our community.

In particular, I would like to highlight the allocation for the community center, which will allow us to expand our programs and services. I also appreciate the funding for the transportation department, which is essential for ensuring that our residents have access to necessary services.

I understand that there will be some adjustment to the budget, but I believe that the overall plan is sound and will benefit our community. I look forward to working with you to ensure that the budget is approved.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
